Agreement on Grand Strategy Reported in U.S.

Great Allied Decisions Expected

London Expecting "Momentous" News At Any Moment

LONDON, Jan. 26.—(CP)—The House of Commons went into secret session late today at the motion of Foreign Secretary Eden, and it was considered possible it would be to receive a statement concerning the results of Allied strategy negotiations.

By DOUGLAS AMARON

LONDON, Jan. 26.—(CP)—The London Evening News, declaring that message after message from Washington "bids us expect news of 'momentous decisions' at any moment," said editorially today: "It seems obvious that so much smoke implies a pretty considerable fire and the world waits with high expectations for full information."

"So far the messages are passing on mere rumors and the hints are vague," the News said. "They speak of an agreement on grand strategy, of the setting up of a supreme war council 'to deal the death blow to the Axis,' and of the unification of commands."

"One thing is certain. At this dramatic stage of the war in which such great issues are hanging in the balance the United Nations must move as one to a common plan. This is not a series of separate wars. Campaigns though divided by thousands of miles are in reality indivisible."

North Africa May Be Discussed

Discussing problems which must be untangled the News asked: "Will a solution of the North African dilemma emerge?"

"Will de Gaulle and Giraud shake hands and fight together as comrades-in-arms for the common cause?" it asked. "Will the whole French empire now rise against Hitler and advance under the same banner? If those ranks can be closed the battle of Tunisia will be shortened. And much depends upon that battle."

The News said other knots to be untangled include detailed planning for a campaign or campaigns "to shift some of the weight of the European battle from the shoulders of Russia," needs of the vast Pacific front, and "swarming" US. boats.

Firmness of Action Necessary

"A Canadian naval chief has just revealed that the U-boat fleets are growing by 10 a month," the paper added.

"No doubt all those matters have their place in the 'momentous decisions.'

"It is by the firmness with which they are harnessed to action that the decisions will be judged."

A report that Joseph Stalin was fully informed on recent Allied consultations, implying that he did not attend them, appeared in the press which anticipated an official announcement about the talks within 24 hours.

News Headlined

Presumably because of censorship restrictions on premature disclosures, all newspapers which mentioned the subject attributed their reports to United States sources, not British.

Typical headlines were:

News: "Big News Tonight."

Star: "U.S. Waits for Big News."

Standard: "Great Events!"

Daily Mirror: "America Experts 'Most Dramatic Statement of War to be Made Soon.'"

New Chronicle: "U.S. Expecting Big News."

Daily Express: "U.S. Expects News to Stir World."

The "Star Man's Diary" in the Star said:

"I understand that Stalin has been kept fully informed of what has taken place during consultations of supreme importance between the Allied nations in the past week... American commentators, I see, are speculating on the formation of an Allied war council, but I doubt whether the official statement about to be issued will contain an announcement on this question."

Can Appreciate Basis For "Doubt"

Others who, like the "Star Man," have been given a preview of the official statement, could appreciate the basis for this "doubt."

The "Londoner's Diary" in the Evening Standard said the question of who will be Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's commander-in-chief in Tunisia soon would be decided, and hinted: "It would not be surprising if Alexander (Gen. Sir Harold Alexander) and Montgomery were separated now."

U.S. Forces Kill 293 Jaap Troops

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—(AP)—American forces have suffered losses in Kokusima, Japan, headquarters on Guadalcanal Island and on the island of Bougainville, where after killing 100 enemy troops last 25, the navy department reported today. Offensive operations are continuing, a communiqué said.

Senate Approves Projected merger

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—(AP)—

The Senate passed yesterday 71 to 10 a bill to permit merger of the Post Office Telegraph Company and Western Union Telegraph Company into the House of Representatives where a similar Senate-approved measure died last session for lack of time.

Premier Stalin Calls For Rout Of Nazi Armies

By EDWARD GILMORE

The strike which has tied up two of Canada's big steel plants has been settled.

Members of the United Steelworkers of America have voted to ratify the new basic terms of the Ottawa settlement plan which provides for a minimum wage rate of 55 cents an hour, including cost-of-living bonuses, with the stipulation that reductions in wages will not bring the rate below 55 cents.

Workers at the big plant of the Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation at Sydney, N.S., accepted the terms yesterday on the proviso that another strike will be called if the government does not implement the recommendations of the plan.

THEIR DECISION

This afternoon union members of the Algoma Steel Corporation at Sault Ste. Marie accepted their decision, made in voting only yesterday, to accept the new basic terms of the Ottawa settlement plan proposed that the votes at Sydney and the Sault be pooled.

Both unions are in agreement that the strike will be discontinued.

Strikes at 2 Steel Plants Now Settled

back on the job, a number of other strikers at Trenton, N.S., was somewhat different. They are not hard-line Communists, but employees of Denco subsidiary plants, engaged in fabricating steel products.

Today, the demands on strike until the Trenton industries are recognized as "basic" and the workplace placed in the hands of the Alberta Steel Co. and Sault Ste.

Marie.

The two-day-old strike has caused a loss of two-thirds of Canada's basic steel producing industry, with 13,500 men involved.

The dispute arose over the majority of the new labour agreements in the basic wage except for certain maintenance men.

BASIC WAGE SOUGHT

The union sought a basic wage of $5 cents an hour, plus cost-of-living allowance with 45¢ cents a

Sunday and 4½ cents at Sault Ste.

Marie.

Conferences among governments, employer and union representatives were held at Ottawa yesterday.

A government compromise offer, establishing a 5-cent wage offer, was endorsed by Britain and the United States.

ment proposed a state of siege

Annual Banquet*Members of Burns Club Commemorate Memory of Famous Scottish Bard

Commemorating the immortal memory of Robert Burns, the great Scottish bard, members of the Edmonton Burns Club gathered at an annual banquet at the Macdonald hotel Monday night. The banquet was held in commemoration of the 154th anniversary of his birth.

Archie McGavin, president of the local club, was chairman of the gathering and David Etton, K.C., mayor of Lethbridge, was guest speaker.

Others at the head table were His Honour, G. G. McLean, mayor; John Band, United States Consul; Gen. Sir General Dr. R. H. Bowden, minister of health; Alex M. Cumming, president of the Burns Club.

Speaking on "The Immortal Memory," Mr. Etton quoted extensively from several of Burns' poems to show how his poetry reveals "the vibration of every chord of the life of Scotland."

TOOK TO KING

Toasts to King and to His Majesty's forces were proposed from the chair, and were followed by several appropriate speeches by the guests.

Hanish Gillespie and a chorus sang "There Was a Lad" following the toast to His Majesty's forces.

Father John C. O'Brien, William Smith, Hanish Gillespie and Jack Williams sang "Willie Brew'd A Peck O' Mau'lin" and E. F. Morris sang a solo in the community singing.

Alex M. Cumming recited to the room in St. George's Hall the spell of the moorland and glen, the castle ruins, and the old cottage, are eternal symbols of the story and the song.

Mr. Gillespie and the chorus sang "The Road to the Isles," and Arthur Ross, John C. O'Brien and "Over the Border," following Mr. Cumming's address.

Dr. R. H. Bowden replied to the toast to Canada, by depicting the parts of Scotland played in the building of Canada, starting with the Red River, Abraham Martin in 1821, and leading on to the fall of Quebec in 1837, the rebellion of 1837, the confederation of 1867, the war of 1812-18 and the present.

Archie Black played "Strathearn's Reels" on his violin, following Mr. Etton's address.

His Honour Mr. Etton proposed the toast to the United Nations stating that the United Nations are in common cause with all mankind to humanity, what Burns had in his heart 100 years ago, namely the rights of man.

He explained how universal the mind and spirit of Burns was and how deeply his ideals are to be war today.

We Must Share Up

Beef-rationing next spring is probable, according to officials of the food control department, and all meat may be rationed at that time.

This is not because the supply will be less than the home demand, but because there is an export demand which must be taken into account. The United States opened a market for Canadian cattle in pre-war days, and the same may happen again. It would be a poor return for that favor, and a poor bid for future trade, to disregard a shortage in the United States now in order that home consumption might go unrestricted.

One point is that if we ration meat, this will be applied, will be kept up until supplies to the Republic at the expense of curtailing beef consumption to some degree in the Dominion. As rationing is almost certain to be applied there, the threatened scarcity is a definite prospect.

That is why Mr. J. C. MacLean, Minister of Food and Consumer's Dodge, in Ottawa, and much more than a pilgrimage to Finland and thence by car into Estonia, where you are to be brought into Leningrad by the German army?

A few days later he called me and said, "I told you we were to be."

"We are to be in Leningrad no later than ten days or at most two weeks."

Under this conviction on the part of the Germans, Mr. MacLean set aside his share of the right to ration meat, asked him whether he intended to enter Leningrad by parachute.

Mr. MacLean was under the impression that the British had no right to do so.

Canadians will share the regret of their neighbors at the death of Mr. Jay Pierpont Moffat, United States Minister to Canada. Mr. Moffat has been the official channel of communication between His Government and ours since the Dominion became the United States was brought into the war. The complete and harmonious co-operation of the two countries in their war efforts is evidence of what he performed his duties.

Bases Change Hands

Papua has been cleared of the Japanese. Of 15,000 men landed there last spring to convert the peninsula into a base for an assault on New Guinea, only a few stragglers remain living like animals in the jungle, and growing fewer daily. The fortified positions are all in Allied hands. Few of the enemy surrendered. The mass of the fifteen thousand are dead. So far, the Japanese have lost a great number of sailors and soldiers who perished in attempts to reinforce these garrisons.

Superior air power gave the Allies an advantage which they have employed to the full. Tokyo struck its fortunes on the way for, and its force could clear the way for a ground assault. The Japanese transports, and crippled naval power, but the strength of its air force was in numbers, not quality. Its planes were "made in Japan" and according to Japanese standards. They are swift, maneuverable and fierce. And the Japanese have shown them down like sparrows when they interfered with the bombing of Japanese ships and installations.

The western half of New Guinea is still in Japanese hands. But the bombers are bombing the bases from which the holding forces must obtain supplies and reinforcements. Rabaul, in New Britain, has been under attack for nearly a week, indicating that the "popping-up" in Papua is to be followed by sea and air attacks on the enemy-held points farther along the coast. This is keeping with President Roosevelt's promise that the fighting will be carried this year "progressively" to Japan.

Lae and Salamaua may now be expected to replace Buna and Gona in the news from New Guinea. The latter enemy bases are now Allied bases.

The Pay-as-you-Go Plan

The sum plan of collecting income taxes on the pay-as-you-go basis is gaining popularity in Canada, as well as in the United States.

The objection offered to the plan is that this would involve writing off the time the eight months' arrears when every taxpayer now owes the government. But that objection is more serious in statement than in fact. The loss to the treasury could, and of necessity would, be offset by a reduction in tax rates longer than will otherwise be necessary. The treasury would receive monthly as much money as it now receives. The difference is that the taxpayer would be crediting the month with paying his taxes for January 1943, instead of his taxes for January 1942.

There is no doubt that this change would be welcomed. Nobody likes to feel that he is paying for "dead time." There is a strong argument, however, that the instalment plan now wiped out an obligation of the present, not the past. The effect in creating taxpayer willingness to pay would itself be important.

From a very practical consideration, there is the point that the collection would be done as and when the money is earned, instead of taking chances on collecting a multitude of debts eight months—some of which are bound to turn bad—because some taxpayers die and some cease to have incomes from which to pay.

Parliament should give serious attention to the proposal that the change be made and collecting put on the pay-as-you-go footing.

CHARLOTTESTOWN, Prince Edward Island—The government has agreed to the proposed legislation to amend the Income Tax Act to permit the importation of liquor.

particularly those who have come because of war conditions.

Edmonton is doing a magnificent war job. Practically every industry in this area has turned to war work. Thousands of men and women are engaged in occupations essential to the welfare of the men in the armed forces. These men and women are at war. These are engaged in the war effort, just as men in uniform are engaged in the war effort.

The shortage of dwelling houses is definitely affecting their productive capacity. It is limiting Edmonton's war production, just as it is reducing Edmonton's right to maintain their civic existence through legitimate growth.

It is not enough to say that no wartime housing organization exists to deal specifically with the situation as it exists in Edmonton. If there are no houses not equipped and empanelled to deal with our specific situation, they are not doing the job we should be doing.

Edmonton's participation in the production in behalf of Canada's population is unique. The only war work Edmonton differs from other cities, in this regard, lies in the fact that Edmonton has always been subject to a financial boycott in respect to the Dominion Housing Act.

That is why Mr. J. C. MacLean, Minister of Food and Consumer's Dodge, in Ottawa, and much more than a pilgrimage to Finland and thence by car into Estonia, where you are to be brought into Leningrad by the German army?

Siege of Leningrad Was Great Epic of Endurance

Er of Isolation in Russia Has Gone for Good

By DOROTHY THOMPSON
In his fascinating account of the winter regime in Germany, from December to January, Mrs. Louis Lochner, twenty years a correspondent in Berlin, describes the severest winter in a century.

Members of families died of starvation, relatives kept their children away from the tables to draw their rations, and kept themselves from starving.

It went to run the arms factories, and winter, starving, freezing, sweating, dying—and at the same time, producing their own weapons of destruction.

Then came the story of all those accomplished after terrible defeat.

These campaigns will fascinate many readers for centuries.

The story is of the triumph of realism over prestige, of the victory of the people over the pretensions of the aristocracy.

For Russians acknowledged every defeat as a victory, drew the full consequences of it, and did not let it go.

As a result, Stalin is withdrawn and retreats, retreats and withdraws, beaten and beaten. Yet, he did it. At no point is there any sign of his seeking to make a stand.

General staffs have been shifted as a consequence of the sharpest combat to date.

And because he did look for prestige, he has given the victory of the people over the pretensions of the aristocracy.

Two days ago, the capture of the German headquarters after another—Volkov Luki. Millions of Rossos, thousands of tanks, thousands of planes, the story of seven offensive in two months, all of them successful, in which German troops and all of them accomplished after terrible defeat.

The story is of the triumph of realism over prestige, of the victory of the people over the pretensions of the aristocracy.

For Russians acknowledged every defeat as a victory, drew the full consequences of it, and did not let it go.

As a result, Stalin is withdrawn and retreats, retreats and withdraws, beaten and beaten. Yet, he did it. At no point is there any sign of his seeking to make a stand.

General staffs have been shifted as a consequence of the sharpest combat to date.

And because he did look for prestige, he has given the victory of the people over the pretensions of the aristocracy.

ALTHOUGH no official statement in the matter has so far been made by the Edmonton District Hockey Association, apparently the position of the E.A.C. junior team despite their win last night is not just what most citizens here believe.

It is understood at the beginning of the season that when the half-way mark in the schedule had been reached, the leading civilian club, either Canadians or E.A.C., would then have the right to choose four players from the other club and combine them with the balance of the remaining game and into the league play-off.

The E.A.C.'s now have four points up and so the result of the unplayed matches between Canadians and R.C.A.F. would which have brought all three teams on an even basis in the major game and so far the half-way point as well as the final session to the remaining games and into the league play-off.

SECRETARY McCOOL reports that the Accommodation Committee is now all set to take care of the E.A.C. team in the final period and expect to have accommodations for several more by the end of the week. Members of committee will be fulfilling the original plan, the fans are entitled to know more.

HERE AND THERE . . .

Mr. Tommy Anderson, the manager of the men's basketball team, has now agreed to let the E.A.C. have a special trip here for the big fight card from an eastern U.S. coast port. He will arrive by plane on Monday by Flt. Lt. W. G. Goudie, referee of the committee in charge.

HOW ABOUT IT? While the cold weather caused several postponements and thus delay in completing the first six of each team's 12 games by Jan. 15 as originally planned, it has been general impression that the conditions still held.

According to the grapevine, the men's basketball team will be back in the arena in the ordinary way with a play-off at the end of the schedule.

President Clark Hollingsworth of the men's basketball team for tomorrow night. It will be at the Y.M.C.A. and will begin at 8:30.

Calgary Army Wins 8-1 Over Lethbridge Bombers

LETHBRIDGE, Jan. 26.—(CP)—Calgary's powerful Army sextet strengthened its hold on top place in the Alberta Service Senior Hockey League standings here last night by overwhelming Lethbridge R.C.A.F. Bombers 8-1 in a game postponed from Dec. 30.

Sgt. Tommy Anderson's Comets, who had won 12 in the first period, had their backs to the wall, literally all their own way throughout the contest. They ran the score up to 8-1 in the third period and ran in two more goals in the third for good measure.

Pte. Jim Jeffries, a young Black Hawk rookie star of a year ago, paced the Calgary attack by scoring his first goal in the first period and many more. Pte. Don Deacon counted twice with the rest of the Calgary team. Sgt. Jim Dunnigan, Capt. Pte. White, Rimmer and Pte. Kenny Stewart, AC2 Jimmy Simpson scored the lone Lethbridge goal unassisted.

Harry Bobo in Comeback Decisions "Big Boy" Brown

BALTIMORE, Jan. 26.—(AP)—Harry Bobo, recognized by the Columbus, O., Boxing Commission as duration heavyweight champion, won all the late going to take a 15-round decision last night from Alf (Big Boy) Brown, the Maryland Boxing Commission's successor to Joe Louis' vacant title.

Bobo knocked 216 Brown, 260, in the early going. Brown, Detroit Negro, had an even break. He had the Pittsburgh Negro on the floor for a seven-count in the fifth round with a flurry of rights and lefts to the head. Bobo came back after a brief respite and closed in on Brown's trunks on the canvas for a nine.

After that, it was all Bobo. Brown amazed the customers with his ability to absorb punches much better than he absorbed them. Joe Louis' Tulsa Cubby refused to wilt despite a murderous barrage from Bobo. The Negro, who was certified as fit to box by his physician of the Maryland State Board, had after a last-minute examination passed his vision.

Pennsylvania boxing authorities have barred Bobo for defective vision.

Then Eddie Karpman, Bobo's manager, gave his opinion of the rhythm which bars Bobo from battling in Denver. "It's just the kind of the Bills Connors," he said, "that he's got and "this should prove once and for all that his [Bobo's] eyes are okay."

Wife Who Deserts Serving Husband Should Read How Hitler Treats Women and Children; Entertain to Get Circulation

Dear Miss Dix: The other day I read in your column the letter from the mother who told of her smiling instead of crying at the station when she went to see her boy off to war. Instead of pulling us down, the mothers' smiles were cheering at the stations and so many women clinging to their men and saying "Goodbye" and "We'll see you never see again." We need to think that our wives and mothers are doing the same thing. That is what we are fighting for. To them to cry all over us when we leave is just as bad as it would be if they were to take the last bit of morale out of us.

—STATE W. H. C.

Answer: I commend this letter to all mothers who have sons on our fighting battle line. Many of them do not realize the terrible sacrifice the intelligence to realize that not all the sons of their countrymen means of those men, bring the man they love back to them or save them from being sent to the camp of the German army to be the victim of the soldiers. And that is why so many mothers are weeping. They are barking back their tears and keep busy making comfortable homes for their husbands, working and turning a cheerful face upon the world.

There are other women who are indulging themselves in an orgy of grief that is undermining their health and the health of their sons of them. They do nothing but sit and brood over a situation that you cannot change. They pour out their sobs, pour out their sufferings. In a morbid bid for sympathy, they tell their husbands and sons, regardless of the facts, they are adding to their burdens.

The mothers of the boy who loves his mother and his wife, nothing is so terrible as to know that she is pinning away with grief over him. They are unable to comfort her, that she is sick and that he is not there to take care of her. Her son, too, is sick. He has had to make a sacrifice of his career to answer his country's call. He is not strong enough to be tired with drills that tax his strength. He is in danger, and when to all this is added the thought that he loves is added it takes the last bit of heart out of him.

So, mothers, wives and sweethearts, if you must pour out your sorrows on paper, do so, but burn the letter instead of mailing it. Write to me, or drop a few letters to the men at the front if you have one particle of affection for them.

In Air Force

DEAR MISS DIX: I am an Air Corps cadet. I enlisted in the Air Force as an aviation cadet. My wife threatened to leave me if I did, and she made this threat good by going and taking their three-year-old child with her, and

When you are entertaining with the help of a maid, plan your menu and the service so that you will be able to sit down and enjoy a cocktail with your guests before you go to the kitchen and serve the meal.

A roast dinner seems to be the easiest meal to prepare. A roast or even a stew can be left in the oven or on the stove without watching.

A salad can be made and kept in the refrigerator until the time the meal is to be served.

With this type of meal and a maid to help, you will be dressed and served when needed.

For the maid to add to the service, Mrs. Housewife keeps her machine absolutely free of dust and dirt. She follows the directions on the instruction book from her machine manufacturer. After over night use, she will stand over the machine before using.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

It amazes me how many mothers write to tell me of the existence of umbilical hernias (a rupture at the navel) in their boy babies. Not all babies have them, but many, but predominantly so. Many of these hernias are easily corrected, but some are not.

The explanation for hernias (which do not develop because of crying, but merely show up more prominently when she is sleeping) is that the baby has not quite finished. The abdominal muscles have not become knit together. The chief danger is that a portion of the intestines may slip into the hernia and become strangulated there. This produces a crisis of no mean proportions.

To prevent such a happening and to hold the hernia in place adhesive bands are used. The skin on both sides of the navel is cut and wide strips of adhesive bands strapped in place from side to other. Management after this can be seen best shown how to put on the bands. They need not be tight, however, as the baby will be sponge-bathed and not touch them so long as he wears these bands.

This answers your last question. Dear Mrs. Meyer Eldred: What is the best way to determine if your son has a hernia? Your letter was written to me before anything else, so I will answer the subject of the non-fat baby.

You should write an article in your local paper and write to the editor, asking him to print it.

Even the most sartorial might be known by how neat a bright, gay (even if ill-fitted) bonnet is a first-class morale builder for the fair sex. Right: A bonnet that head girls enjoy. Below: Two sprightly spring bonnets pictured above. They're both products of top-flight custom designers, made to be copied for modest purses. At left is a sailor of white, perforated stiff material which resembles chair caning. It is piped with black velvet, while madeline blue velvet ribbon winds around the crown. The blue is complemented by two pink roses woven through the "caning." A black chenille-dotted veil gives the finishing touch. The hat at right is really ahead of the season—a jumbo-mammoth affair! It's a high-top boxful of madonna blue felt with an enormous taffeta bow in multi-colored stripes. The veil has pinpoint dots in navy blue.

Vancouver Couple Are Wed Here At Candlelit Marriage Service

No Frills or Furbelows for Saillettes

By HAZEL DEAN

GALT, Ont., Jan. 26—(CP)—Canada's seafarers at the Women's Royal Canadian Naval Service training establishment here have had to live in tuss with frills and furbelows.

But even the stanchion sailor girl enjoys a touch of femininity now and she likes well her appearance. They are making a hit.

In the fitting room of the newly-opened shop, Miss Sheila Florence of Winnipeg has a busy time helping outfit new recruits. She says: "The girl who she sees receives all of 20 cents for her kit bag."

Princess Juliana Gives Birth to Third Daughter

News of This Birth in Canada's Capital to Reach Every Ear in Holland •

Discussing arrangements at the Civic Hospital, Ottawa, are, left to right, Dr. John F. Puddicombe, who delivered the royal child; Air Commodore Prince Bernhard; Superintendent Dr. W. Douglas Piercy.

In this Canadian hospital a child was born last week whose arrival was awaited by every loyal subject of Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands. By short wave radio the news has been flashed to countless secret receiving sets in Holland.

This is the room in the Ottawa Civic Hospital in which Princess Juliana of the Netherlands awaited the birth of her child. This was the Princess' third child.

In preparation for the arrival of Princess Juliana at the hospital, these pretty nurses decorated the wall of the corridor outside her room with the Royal Netherlands flag. The Princess moved into her room on Monday, Jan. 18.

The new U.S. aircraft carrier Yorktown is pictured above on the ways of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Co., as it awaited launching and christening by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt. The First Lady also christened the new ship's predecessor, the famous carrier Yorktown that was lost in the battle of Midway.

It Looks Different Now

Adolf Hitler was telling an audience of 20,000 about the glories of his dictatorship when this picture of Berlin's Deutschland Halle was taken in 1935. Today neither the hall nor the dictatorship looks quite so glorious after a raid by R.A.F. flyers who, according to Berlin broadcasts, dropped fire bombs on the roof and smashed the dome of Germany's capital counterpart of Madison Square Garden.

Royal Sisters of Egypt

Attractive daughters of the Nile are Princesses Ferial, 4, and Fawzia, 3, children of King Farouk and Queen Farida of Egypt.

Raider Takes Three Strikes in Mediterranean

An Axis plane really laid three "eggs" when three bombs, aimed at Allied ships in a Malta-bound convoy, fell wide of their mark, sending up these harmless geysers in the Mediterranean. Photo was made aboard a British cruiser accompanying the merchant ships, which reached port safely.

Welcome: First Lady of U.S. in Montreal

This was the official group that greeted Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt when she stepped from the train at the C.P.R. station in Montreal to spend a busy day in the city. In this picture Mrs. Roosevelt is seen with Allan Bronfman on the left while on the right are Hon. P. Philippe Bras, K.C., M.L.C., and Dr. Paul G. Well, the three joint chairmen of the Canadian Aid to Russia Fund, in whose behalf the First Lady of the U.S. visited Montreal. Over her shoulder is Homer M. Byington, U.S. consul general in Montreal, while on the extreme right is W. M. Neat, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

To Wed Sailor She's Never Met

Mildred Deman . . . with "Photo of Arthur"

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 26.—Wedding bells will ring for an American girl and a British sailor who never have seen each other.

Pretty Mildred Deman, stenographer for headquarters of the Third Air Service Area Command, expects to marry Arthur Earsshaw of the Royal Navy as soon as he can persuade his commanding officer to let him visit the States and make her acquaintance.

The "mail order romance" started about three years ago when a friend of Mildred's asked permission to send her address to a soldier in New Zealand. The soldier turned it over to Arthur somewhere in Egypt. Arthur was intrigued—and thus began a voluminous exchange of letters and pictures. Arthur keeps his collection aboard ship; Mildred keeps her letters from him in a cedar chest. She has an album inscribed "Photos of Arthur" and carries five other pictures of him with her constantly. She also has a few others framed.

Arthur is 20, Arthur 24; she's blonde, he's brown. As for himself, Arthur advised her that he "dances a little, one medal; cranks a little, no medals," Mildred said. For Arthur's sake she is trying to cultivate a liking for tea.

Mildred lives here with her mother, who has formally announced her engagement.

'I Am a Murderer'

BY MORRIS MARKEY

THE STORY: This is the story of the "perfect crime"—the murder of Col. Wesley Hope Merrivether in his office at the Alberta Legislature—and of the events leading up to it. We follow the story from the time our Colonel at a party following a political meeting, receives a letter from Cynthia Fred West, telling him that he had started a "little Henry Poinsett" in politics, and others of the Merrivethers' set, and ends.

Vaughan Dunbar stood for a moment in the doorway. Then, hardly glancing at the others in the room, he moved with precision, and headed to the phone. Meantime, he bent stiffly from the waist. "I am afraid I chose an awkward moment for my visit," he said.

"We are pleased to have you, Mr. Dunbar," Colonel Merrivether said. "He rose and extended his hand.

"Tell me about Bill Stewart," said Cynthia, and she smiled eagerly.

"He is a member of the Legislature," said Dunbar, smiling quietly. He looked at Mitchell Grace, and touched his cigar to his lips for a moment.

"He is a gentleman of some prestige," said Grace, "and he tells me he is a friend of William Stewart."

Cynthia heard him. "Bill Stewart?" she said with quiet delight.

"The gentleman who is calling knows him."

"Come, for we have a sake show the man." Right away, he said. "We can't have a pal of Bill's hanging around the back door, can we?"

"You're right, Mr. Dunbar," the Colonel said. Cynthia started to follow Grace, paused, and waited at the side of her father's desk.

tell me the very last bit of news about Bill."

The friendship between Cynthia Merrivether and William Stewart, journalist, was in many ways an unusual one, and in others was never an enviable one. He was a man of 50, perhaps a trifle more, a slave to a daughter whose adoration and love had been hereditary.

"We are pleased to have you, Mr. Dunbar," Colonel Merrivether said. "He rose and extended his hand.

"Tell me about Bill Stewart," said Cynthia, and she smiled eagerly.

"He is a member of the Legislature," said Dunbar, smiling quietly. He looked at Mitchell Grace, and touched his cigar to his lips for a moment.

"You're right, Mr. Dunbar," the Colonel said. Cynthia started to follow Grace, paused, and waited at the side of her father's desk.

And thereby had he beckoned disaster.

For the chapter had been lacquered on. And hostesses of divers sorts had provided horses for her to ride. And one fine day such a horse had bolted from her, and fallen.

Colonel Anne had been a bar-daughter of Bill Stewart, gone.

Cynthia nursed Bill Stewart for three days, until he died. And the heart and the fibres of his soul, which was genuinely a courageous soul, were broken. She had nursed him, and nursed him well, the despair which beat over him and tried valiantly to make a drunkard of him. Please do!

So they were friends. And so restores by her at the last, he had restored him back into full work.

"How are you?" Cynthia asked Vaughan Dunbar. "I'm sorry, my darling Bill! Just talk about him. Please do!"

"I should tell you first, of all, that he is in the thick of it, and doing wonderful job—but you must rest now. I think you know that already. There is not a correspondent with the Middle East task force who would dare say if Bill were not there to guide him down the narrow way."

Gen. G. W. Ward, chief of staff to the British government, ap-problems now facing the United States and noted that there had been a "marked" increase of wages in Great

"But," he added, "we must ad-

Turning to Britain's inflation

"We can find no reason why

28 Municipal Resolutions Up Before Cabinet

paid up for two years prior to nomination.

Legislative action was sought by the delegation, eliminating the two personal dates at present existing for tax purposes. One general date, it was claimed, would clarify the tax-payment situation.

OTHER PROBLEMS

Northern needs, school grants, road grants, and the responsibility of care for mental defectives were also dealt with at length by the delegation.

The municipalities asked permission to place a request bid on animals offered for public sale. This would protect the districts concerned against losses incurred in transporting advertising, and attendees' fees.

War conditions preclude implementation of suggested agreement to build bridges that the department of public works undertake the construction of all bridges required in the areas where pilings is necessary, while the municipal district would pay cost of all bridges under 16 feet in length.

A bounty on coyotes, $5.00 for adult animals, $2.50 for pups, was suggested to the government at the meeting. The cost would be shared equally by the municipalities and the federal government. Sherriff's maintain that coyotes are becoming a serious menace to their livestock. The proposal also called for persons to hunt coyotes in any season but the winter, when pelts are not wanted.

SEEK ENDORSEMENT

The provincial government was asked to endorse the following proposals, and urge their adoption, which were submitted by the Dominion government: Revision of income tax regulations, respecting deduction of wages and salaries; extension of the Old Age Pension Act, to include persons over 60; establishment of minimum prices for farm products; revision of producer; suggested extension of the Northern Alberta Railway to Alaska; co-operation with the U.S. State government on the Yukon River.

The Dominion government will also be asked to take into account the difficulties experienced by farmers must travel; that many trucks are being used for pleasure driving, thus evading gasoline rationing; that the use of gasoline in passenger cars is being used in private cars when reconsidering the ration regulations.

The Controller of the Province of Alberta will be asked to grant special categories to municipal councillors, who cover extensive coverage in the course of their duties.

Livestock and grain prices, farm storage of wheat, meat, bacon, grain, flour, housing of threatened grain, and consumption of horsemeat in those Allied countries where a most shortage exists will be considered by the delegation when taking up with the Ottawa government.

COURTEOUS RECEPTION

The delegation received at a very courteous reception. D. Roberts, secretary of the association, declared: "We will receive the government delegation with courtesy and due courtesy, and will convey them to our member districts in the annual report of the executive."

Mr. G. R. C. McLean, P. L. Farwell, Hallirk, J. M. Whealey, Chancellor, N. McCallum, Vermillion; A. J. G. Goss, Minister, Secretary Roberta, left for their homes yesterday.

Getting Around

No one claims they are infallible, but they do give on the average, amazingly accurate results. I didn't want to admit it, but the records of the R.C.A.F. have proved their value beyond question."

We think the system of tests will be continued on into the years of peace.

Just think of the time and expense that might be saved if young people could start out to learn the occupations for which they are best suited. And not of heartsache might be avoided too.

The ability to learn tests are often designed to do the same thing in the mental realm that physical examinations do in the physical. It is a good idea, and this is such an astounding thing after all!"

We shouldn't lose sight of the fact that man is steadily advancing and all we here brawn plays a very insignificant part in doing the work of the world.

A few years ago the magazines carried some interesting illustrations in which an applicant for a job was pictured flexing his muscles before the committee in the letter office. The business man was shaking his head and waving his hand in despair.

"They don't know what you do know?" the prospective boss was demanding.

Well, if you had a real sort of war, it seems to have come to that! Every new machine that modern war brings into operation demands mental, not physical, conditioning on the part of the operator.

In sport it is easy to decide who is the swiftest. A race over a measured distance decides the issue. In war, however, there is no equivalent to a sprint, since a measured distance is that all-important area above the sea.
